STAKE FOR CABOCHON, EMPIRE TRACK LICENSED.

WINS AT FANCY PRICE.

Owens Gets Ugly Fall in 'Chase, but Escapes with Broken Arm.

Cabochen placed another stake to the credit of James R. Keene by winning the Spindrift Handicap, for three-year-olds, at Sheepshead Bay yesterday. The form players had been deceived by his two had races on the turf course, and allowed him to go to the post practically unbacked at the lucrative price of 20 to 1. Miller had to ride McCarter, so Jimmy Rowe gave Lowe the mount on Cabochon, and the boy not only did the colt full justice but showed far betrode McCarter and Tony Faust, respectively, by avoiding the early pace and saving something

Tony Paust was heavily backed from 7 to 1 to 4 to 1, but Garner's ride was open to criticism, although he may have been following instructions Tony Faust has showed in recent races that he runs best from behind, but Garner sent him right along yesterday after whipping him away from the post, and raced head and head with McCarter up the backstretch and around the turn, which brought about the defeat

Turning for home Tony Faust had raced Mc-Carter into submission, to all appearances, and opened up a gap of a full length, but it proved to be a lest despairing effort, and he had nothing suddenly that he finished outside the money. Caborhon then came away to win ridden out by a length, while McCarter, struggling on earned the place, two lengths before Minesta the backstretch, but dropped out of it rounding the turn, only to close again in resolute fashion, Harry Payne Whitney's Killaloe had a strong following in this race on the strength of her good second to Yankee Girl a few days ago. She was some interference on the first turn. Arcite and Fountainblue also ran dull, disappointing races, which gave their followers little hope for inprovement another day.

Dinna Ken and Lancastrian, both at odds on, were the winning favorites yesterday. Dinna Ken won the handicap at one mile, after racing in close company with Far West to the last sixteenth pole. The latter showed decided im-provement over his recent races, and ran well enough to indicate that he has finally come back to the form which made him feared in almost any company last year. Lancastrian, well handled by E. Dugan, wen the mile and a half race on the turf, with Flimnap second and Tre-nola third. Banker was undoubtedly the second best horse in the race, however, and might even Brussel tried to go through a narrow opening on the rall on the back stretch and ran into a pocket and could not find his way through until turning for home. Just when his followers took fresh hope, however, Flimnap swerved over against Trenola, which shut him out again, and the distance to the finish was all too short for him to overcome this second handicap.

Seven horses went to the post in the steeple-chase, but only four finished, as three came to chase, but only four imission, as three came to grief during the running. Merry Saint fell at the first jump and rolled completely over Owens, who had the mount. The jockey lay where he fell without moving, and it looked from the stand as if he had been instantly killed. He regained consciousness, however, within ten minutes, and barring the development of internal injuries escaped with a broken arm and a general shaking up. Bayonet and Dr. Hellsworth also fell, but their jockeys did not get a scratch.

Miller brought some consolation to his followers by winning the last race with The Squire.

Jack Jayner's Hessian was the "one best bet" of those who remembered his good race with Halket earlier in the meeting, but he falled to run back to the form he showed on that occa-sion, and was lucky to be third, six or eight lengths behind the winner. Herbie bled in this lashing out with his heels on the way to the post, and finally got one of his legs over the rail and practically hung himself. He may or may not have strained himself, but the fact remains

Little and Hacket Reach Challenge Round in Big Tourney.

The lawn tennis sournament for the Middle States championship advanced yesterday by easy stages at Mountain Station, N. J. By winning two matches in the afternoon Raymond D. Little and Harold H. Hackett earned the right to meet William J. Clothier and William A. Larned in the challenge round of the doubles. Little is also the challenger for the singles title, which will be played to-day, so that the doubles may be post poned until Monday.

The semi-final round of the doubles, in which Little and Hackett met Wylle C. Grant and H. L. Westfall, 7-5, 6-3, was productive of some good lawn tennis. By way of credit to the winners !! may be said that Grant and Westfall never played better. They had the lead at 5-3 in the first set, with Grant serving, but, as has been the trouble with their play here previously, they lacked the intangible something that helps teams to win. As soon as they reached the critical point they stopped hitting the ball in a way to bring victory. Miss Marie Wagner played well to defeat Miss Wimer in the semi-final round of the women's singles. She will have a good test to-day when she meets Miss Carrie B. Neely, the runner-up in the national championships, in the final round.

A. L. Hoskins, chalrman of the ranking committee, saw the matches played yesterday. The summary follows: may be said that Grant and Westfall never played

INGOMAR CLOSE BEHIND.

Forty-five Boats Race in American Yacht Club Regatta.

After one of the closest races this season, the schooner-yacht Queen defeated the Ingomar yesterday in the annual regatta of the American Yacht Club by 4 minutes 39 seconds, corrected time. Harry Maxwell, the son of the owner of the Queen, handled that yacht, and Captain Charlie Barr was at the helm of the Ingomar. The race, which was salled in light winds from the south to the southwest, took the schooners and all the sloops, including the "thirties," twice around a triangular course of nine and a quarter miles, giving them windward work on the first leg, a broad reach on the second and a close reach on the third. The sloops Effort and Winome won in their classes

Forty-five yachts, divided into fifteen classes, started between 1:40 and 2:20 p. m. in a light southerly breeze, the Ingomar leading the Queen across the line, off the Scotch Caps buoy, by about three lengths. She stood off into the middle of the Sound on the starboard tack, found a breeze, and in one hour gained a windward position of nearly half a mile on the Queen, Both were becalmed under the lee of Prospect Point for a time. The Queen, however, by nursing the light airs, managed to gain on the Ingo-mar, so that when they rounded the first mark, off Mott's Point, at 3:13, they were on even terms, with the Queen to the windward. The others rounded like this: Winsome, 3:20:20; Aurora, 3:21:30; Istalena, 3:3:10; Neola, 3:5; Effort, 3:25:25.

Twenty-three minutes after rounding the Mott's Point buoy the Ingomar blanketed the Queen and passed her to starboard, but when they buffed around the next mark, Marinicock buoy, she was leading by only ten seconds. The times taken at the home mark at the end of the first taken at the home mark at the end of the list nine and a quarter miles were: Queen, 4:02; Ingomár, 4:05; Winsome, 4:08;10; Aurera, 4:00:34; Istalena, 4:00:56; Effort, 4:11:27; Nesla, 4:12:44; Nepsi, 4:17:14; Adelaido, 4:18:16. Then the little fellows began to finish fast in the freshening breeze. Eighteen of them Queen held her lead on the Ingomar on the second round of the course, making a spectacular finish as she crossed the line with her lee rail almost awash and travelling at least twelve

Commodore Vanderbilt, at the wheel of his 57-footer, the Aurora, made a brave fight for first place. He made the best start of the three, and held a good lead in the windward work on the first leg of the course, but the Winsome caught some stray catspaws, which were made good use of, and she finally won by 2 minutes 41 seconds. The Neola and the Effort had 4 lively tussic, resulting in a victory for the lat-ter by 2 minutes 52 seconds.

A newcomer in the 30-foot class was an old racing friend, Ralph N. Ellis's Hera II, formerly the Neola II. The Nepsi won in the class. The summary follows:

The Avenger Among Winners in First Day's Run from Boston to Rockport.

Rockport, Mass., July 5.—The first day's run in the cruise of the Eastern Yacht Club carried the boats out of Massachusetts Bay and around Cape Ann to-day, and an increasing southerly breeze gave the racing portion of the first such lively work that nearly all were compelled to take their own time at the finish, as the committee were unable to reach the scene in season.
